MORMONISM 100th BIRTH-DAY.
SURPRISE FOR BEETHOVEN.
EVERLASTING PROLETARIAT

—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1929 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ON April 6, the Mormon church will be 100 years old. Plural marriage has gone, but the church remains powerful, with numbers increasing after a century of struggle and opposition. Nearly one million Mormons will celebrate the day, the main celebration being at Salt Lake City, others all over this and nearly all European countries, and in Mexico, Australia, Hawaii and the South Sea islands.

FEW RELIGIONS of modern times have lasted with strength increasing for so long a time. The Shakers and Quakers have almost vanished, although the latter are represented in the White House. Thousands of religions have been started, few last long.

Joseph Smith, a young farmer of Beneca county, New York, with five other men, founded Mormonism. He told the five that angels had visited him and explained matters fully. They directed him to a hill near his home. There he discovered a sacred history of this continent in the days of the Indians' forefathers.

WRITTEN ON PLATES of gold, these records were translated by Joseph Smith with the help of the Urim and Thummim, an enlightening instrument providentially hidden away with the gold plates. It was difficult to gain any such evidence and those sacred tablets, called now "The Book of Mormon," still retain power over many.

FOR MANY OF US RELIGION is a simple matter of faith, and the many, free from troublesome questionings, are happy. For others, religion takes complicated forms. For instance, Madeline Slade, daughter of a British admiral, fighting with Gandhi in his rebellion against British rule says, "I have not thrown Christianity overboard, in embracing Hinduism. Baptized and confirmed a Christian, I never was an orthodox Christian in my heart. Neither am I now a Hindu. I first came to understand the teachings of Jesus through Mahatma Gandhi, and the Hindu scriptures. The first ray of light reached my inner being through the music of Beethoven."

How will all that read in the Madeline Slade be received, when she appears for judgment. To what heaven, Hindu or Christian, will she be assigned. And what would the heavy-browed Beethoven say, if he heard that he has sent an English lady to sit at the feet of a little brown Mahatma with shaven head, and a loin cloth for clothing.

Late Flashes Of News

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—The American Federation of Labor announced today it would oppose the nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina, named by President Hoover as associate justice of the supreme court because Parker upheld the injunction issued against the United Mine workers in West Virginia.

CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—Charles A. Shure, reached an agreement with Charles A. Coninsky, owner of the Chicago White Sox today. He turned in his signed contract and will leave tonight for San Antonio, Texas, to join the club.

CLEVELAND, Mar. 25.—General construction projects in Cleveland definitely ended to begin this year total $25,000,000, according to computations given today by Brice Bowman, division commercial manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone company.

TIFFIN, Mar. 25.—Niles W. Burn, erstwhile Tiffin fight promoter, and Jesse Baughman, 21-year-old railroad worker, were sentenced to serve 20 years in the Ohio state penitentiary today in connection with the robbery of the Republic State bank, at Republic, near here, Feb. 7. Both pleaded guilty.

BLUESFIELD, W. VA., March 25.—A presumably empty keg they found in a woods today caused the death of Frances Haywood, two, and the serious injury of her sister, Jennie, 11, and brother, Frank, eight. They rolled the keg up in front of the house. One drove a nail in it and another placed a match at the opening to see if it were empty. It exploded.

Hotel Room In Vienna Is Scene Of Finis To Man's Career

BURNING AUTO WAS FOUND IN AMERICA

Thought Dead For Time; Search Was Launched; Widow In Ohio

(By The Associated Press)
VIENNA, March 25.—The strange career of Dr. Ernest Watzl, monodoc Cleveland chemist and inventor, was pieced together by police of two continents today, while the inventor's body awaited claimants at a morgue here.

The body was found yesterday in a hotel room with a bullet through the heart. In the same room, and believed to have been shot by Watzl before he ended his own life, was the body of a woman known here as Josefa Kropf, but thought possibly to be Mrs. Mary McGranahan, of Cleveland. The woman was said to have joined Watzl in Europe and to have come to Vienna with him.

Among the effects of the two, who were believed to have been dead since before midnight Sunday, when Watzl's insurance policies would have expired, were letters to various people in different countries, one of them to Mrs. Watzl in Cleveland. Police said they believed financial difficulties caused the suicide.

Arrived on Thursday
There was no money whatsoever about the two bodies and in their effects. They had stylish luggage, however, and gave the impression of well being. They arrived here Thursday and spent their days, until Sunday, rambling about the city.

There were two sets of passports between them, one in the name of Johann Flassak, which appeared to belong to the girl, Josefa Kropf, age 25, who according to the certificate, was married last December. The man, identified by police as (Continued on Page 3)

29 DEATHS IN COLUMBIANA CO.

Report Of Dr. Church In Last Fiscal Month Shows 45 Births

LISBON, March 25.—Of the 29 deaths reported to County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church for the last fiscal month, in villages and rural communities in Columbiana county, only three of this number were under the age of 60 years.

Seven deaths were between the ages of 60 and 70 years with eight deaths between the age of 70 and 80 years. There were also seven deaths between the age of 80 and 90 years. There were 45 births in the same communities during the same period 21 boys and 25 girls.

Of the five cases of diphtheria reported four of these were from the village of Lisbon.

There were 22 cases of measles reported in the village of Columbiana and 11 similar cases in Fairfield township, and all of the cases in the same township.

Woman Fined For Liquor Possession

LISBON, March 25.—On her plea of guilty to possessing a quantity of home brew, Maude Algeo of North Beaver st., Lisbon, was fined $100 and costs by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle. The fine and costs have been paid.

Agnes Vaughn of East Liverpool, who is also charged with possession of a lot of home brew, was to be given a hearing before Judge Riddle today.

It has been announced that her fine will be $1,000 and costs. Mrs. Vaughn is being represented by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran of East Liverpool.

Wins Award

MISS CELESTE JEDEL, junior student of Barnard College, N. Y., won the Geneva scholarship, the highest scholastic award bestowed by the college. It entitles the 16-year-old New York girl to two months' study this coming Summer at the Geneva School of International Relations in Geneva, Switzerland.

AGED SQUAW TO TESTIFY BEFORE NEW YORK JURY

Will Tell Part She Had In Killing of Wife; "Witches" Bad

BUFFALO, N. Y., Mar. 25.—Nancy Bowen, a superstitious 66-year-old squaw, was scheduled to take the stand today at the trial of Miss Lila J. Jenson, Indian spinster charged with first-degree murder, and tell how she, at the instigation of Lila, murdered Mrs. Clothilde Marchand to death on the afternoon of March 6.

Lila was in love with Mrs. Marchand's husband, Henri Marchand, noted artist and sculptor. She is alleged by the state to have implanted in the mind of Nancy the idea that Mrs. Marchand was a "witch" and should be done away with. She is accused of having told Nancy Marchand was responsible for the death of her husband, "Sassafra Charlie" Bowen, and that the only way to break the evil spell the "white witch" was casting over the Indians was to kill her.

The two Indian women came to Buffalo from the Cattaraugus reservation, forty miles away, on March 6 last, bought a hammer in a department store and Mrs. Bowen, according to her signed confession, went into the Marchand home and murdered the artist's wife. A short time afterward Lila telephoned Marchand at the Buffalo museum of natural sciences, where he was at work, and he took her automobile riding, later driving her to the bus station. Marchand, who is detained as a material witness, denies he had any knowledge of a plot to kill his wife.

Nancy Bowen, awaiting her appearance in court, spent an uncomfortable night in her cell in the Erie county jail. She begged the matrons to rid her of the witches that were casting an evil spell over her and giving her pains in the chest.

Nancy is said to have reached the frame of mind where she believes she was fooled when she was told that Mrs. Marchand was a "witch" who was "hexing" her and now believes it was some other "witch."

Court Action May Delay New Factory

LISBON, Mar. 25.—Construction of the proposed new factory of the Hall China Co., at East Liverpool may be held up as a result of a petition filed in common pleas court by William Ash, asking for an injunction against the Pennsylvania railroad Co., the Hall China Co., and the City of East Liverpool wherein the construction of a siding along the main line of the railroad company to the plant site is concerned.

Ash states that the railroad company, in the construction of the siding, will damage his property, by reducing its value after the new track has been laid through an unnamed alley and across Harvey avenue, East End, East Liverpool.

Dogs Kill Sheep In County Claim Filed

Dogs entered on the farm of George E. Cooper, north of Lisbon late Sunday night, killed one sheep and wounded another, so Cooper reported to the commissioners late Monday afternoon.

He was ordered to file his claim with the township trustees for their approval before receiving payment from the county.

NAVY MEETING MAY ADJOURN FOR 6 MONTHS

Inability to Get France, Italy Into Pact, Thought Cause

DELEGATION HEADS GATHER FOR TALK

Chances of Gathering All Together Again Are Thought Small

LONDON, March 25.—Possibility of a full year's suspension of the London naval disarmament conference loomed today as the delegates met to discuss the proposal of Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy that the parity adjourn for six months to permit France and Italy to settle their differences.

British officials were outspoken in their belief that if the proposed adjournment were taken, it would be at least a year before the five powers could be convoked into conference again.

For this reason, it is regarded as highly probable that substantial efforts will be made to reach some sort of a tentative agreement as speedily as possible. Once scattered, it is believed, the conference would be almost impossible to call together again.

Minister Calls Meeting

Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald called a meeting of the heads of the five delegations for this afternoon, following an hour and a half's conversation with Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson. It was understood the adjournment proposal was discussed in detail.

Should the adjournment procedure be adopted, it is likely the British, American and Japanese delegates would formulate a three-power agreement immediately. This, however, would not be signed until it had been converted into a five-power pact to include France and Italy. If a tripartite pact were completed immediately and signed, it is feared the chances of getting France and Italy into it would be practically nil.

Latest reports from Tokyo indicate the Japanese foreign office has overruled the navy department's insistence that counter-proposals be made to the Japanese-American compromise practically as it stands.

Louis Dumesnil, French navy minister, today gave the American delegation assurance that France is anxious to complete a five-power pact if humanly possible.

Water Pressure To Be Low Here

Water pressure in Salem will be low from 8 p. m. tonight until 9 a. m. Wednesday morning, according to an announcement by the city water department.

Grocer's Threat Beats Bandit

MT. VERNON, O., March 25.—Charles E. Cochran, grocer, looked up from his work to see a dapper young man confronting him with a pistol.

"Give me your money," the bandit ordered.

"I'll give it to you if you wait until I get around on that side of the counter," Cochran replied deliberately and started towards the gunman.

The bandit failed to wait.

Innovations In Building New Vessel; Differs From Sister Ship

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—A new speed queen of the seas was enthroned today when the North German Lloyd liner Europa, on her maiden voyage wrested the crown from her sister ship, the Bremen.

The 51,000-ton racing greyhound passed Ambrose lightship, the crossing tape at 1:34 a. m. today, making the 3,100-mile crossing from Cherbourg, France, in 4 days, 17 hours and 6 minutes.

She bettered by 18 minutes the record established last October by the Bremen, which on that occasion bettered by 18 minutes the time of her maiden voyage last July when she dethroned the long reigning Cunard liner Mauretania.

The voyage of the Europa was made under more difficult weather conditions than those faced by the Bremen on her record-breaking run. Throughout the voyage she buffeted head winds and heavy seas.

The Europa closely resembles the Bremen in construction and appearance, the two ships being built under the same broad specifications for size and speed. However, they are the products of different designers and different shipbuilders.

LISBON PEOPLE TO VISIT HERE

Rev. F. C. Lake to Speak At Special Service In Salem Church

A delegation from the Lisbon Christian church is to attend the special pre-Easter service at the Christian church, Wednesday night. The minister of the Lisbon church, Rev. F. C. Lake, is to be the speaker.

These special meetings each Wednesday night are arranged as a preparation for an evangelistic campaign to begin in the Christian church April 6th until Easter Sunday. Rev. Gaines M. Cook of Cleveland is to be the evangelist.

At the meeting Wednesday night special attention will be given to singing evangelistic songs, and special music is planned.

County Official To Speak To Grangers

Lemuel H. Johnson, county commissioners' clerk will address the Grangers at Clarkston April 2 and the St. Clair township Farm Bureau at Calcutta May 2 on the secondary road program of Columbiana county.

Mr. Johnson has also been asked to speak at other Grange and Farm Bureau meetings on the same subject.

The secondary road program of the county is now attracting much attention in the rural communities inasmuch as the major road projects are to be completed this year.

AIRSHIPS WILL START REGULAR ATLANTIC TRIPS

Dr. Hugo Eckener Tells Of Plans For Cross-Ocean Service

GREAT DIRIGIBLES WILL FORM CRAFT

Studies Will Be Ended Before Year Is Over; Time Not Set

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 25.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, announced today that with the backing of a group of large industrial and banking concerns, organization of the International Zeppelin Transport company for Trans-Atlantic airship service has been effected.

He said that the capital had been fully subscribed and that by the end of the year studies preparatory to actual operation should be completed.

The companies interested in the project include the National City bank, the United Aircraft and Transport corporation, The Union Carbide company, the Aluminum Company of America, and the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation of Akron, O.

P. W. Litchfield, head of the Goodyear company, is president of the Zeppelin Transport company.

Dr. Eckener said airships larger than the Graf Zeppelin and more than twice the size of the United States Navy dirigible Los Angeles will be built in both the United States and Germany for the service.

He said he favored Seville, Spain, as a site for the European airport for the dirigible and some points near Baltimore for the American terminal. Studies of weather conditions along the American coast, he said, had indicated it would be useless to seek a site north of Baltimore.

Neither Dr. Eckener nor Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City bank, with whom he conferred before making his announcement would say when the Trans-Atlantic service would be begun.

MANY ATTEND SALEM DRAMA

Temperance Committee Is Sponsor of Event In School Auditorium

A capacity audience from Salem and vicinity gathered at the Salem high school auditorium Monday evening to witness the murder trial drama, "Who Killed Earl Wright?" sponsored by the local temperance committee, as a part of an educational campaign.

This "trial" is the exact reproduction of an actual murder case, which was recently tried in a western city. It was produced in drama form by Alvy George Hammond, of Des Moines, Ia., who was in court during the trial of a prominent young man of that community who had killed a friend while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

It was brought out in the "trial" that the bootlegger who sold the liquor by means of which the young man became intoxicated, was jointly guilty for the murder of "Earl Wright," although he was never punished for the crime.

V. A. Schreiber, of Canton, and John Schwenberger, of North Canton, took the parts of the prosecutor and attorney for the defense. They were assisted by a cast of Salem people.

Award Contract

LISBON, March 25.—Contract for the painting and papering of the rooms of the Probate court has been awarded by the county commissioners to Earl R. McDole, of East Liverpool. These are the last offices that are to be renovated, similar work having been done in practically all other offices in the court house.

Plans Air Route

DR. HUGO ECKENER, intrepid commander of the Graf Zeppelin, is connected with the project of regular transatlantic service in which giant dirigibles will be used. Dr. Eckener is studying conditions on this and the European coast in an effort to locate aviation fields for the transatlantic terminals.

TARIFF ANGLES MAY GET VOTE BEFORE FINISH

Amendments, Cause Of Controversy, Still Considered

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 25.—Several highly controversial amendments written into the tariff bill by the senate may be brought to separate votes in the house before the measure is sent to conference.

Such a course of procedure, it was learned today, is finding favor with the leaders of both parties. Rep. Barnier, the Democratic chief, is actively behind a movement to bring this about, and the Republican leaders are inclined to concur.

The bill will come up for action next Monday and in the meanwhile the bulky document—three feet long, two feet wide and six inches thick—will, figuratively, "lie on the speaker's table."

Under the present tentative plans the schedules that would be voted upon are those having to do with sugar, lumber and cement. All three were the subject of spirited debate in the senate and charges were made by some Democrats and independent Republicans that a "vote trading combination" had been formed to increase the sugar levy and impose tariffs on lumber and cement which existing law admits to the country free of duty.

In addition to the move for the separate votes, the Democrats expect to make a motion that will send the bill back to the ways and means committee with instructions that increases be confined to the agricultural schedule.

They do not expect, however, that they will be successful in this, and are concentrating their efforts upon obtaining enough votes to carry the separate ballots. Several months ago, Garner said he was hopeful of organizing a coalition of Democrats and independent Republicans—similar to that which for an extended period was in control of the tariff situation in the senate.

The Democratic leader said that he would do everything possible to enable the members of the house to express their views of the highly disputed senate amendment.

Salem Pythians At Leetonia Meeting

After the regular meeting Monday evening, 12 members of Salem lodge No. 142, Knights of Pythias, went to Leetonia to attend a county meeting held there. Mr. Brown, a representative from Cleveland, was the speaker. Only one lodge in the county was not represented at this meeting.

On April 7 the county sessions will be held in Salem.

Several members of the Salem lodge are planning to attend the dedication of the new K. of P. hall at Washingtonville on Friday. Special programs will be given both afternoon and evening.

County Legion To Gather In Salem

Major Hugh Ramsey, of Lisbon, district chairman, and George Archibald, of East Palestine, county chairman, are expected here Friday evening for the county council meeting of the American Legion, at which Charles H. Carey post No. 56, will be host. The session opens at 8 p. m. from all over the county are expected to send representatives.

HEAVY DAMAGE INFLECTED BY SLEET, WINDS

Families Marooned When Waves Flood Beach At Maumee Bay

TRAFFIC ON DIXIE HIGHWAY HAMPERED

Air, Rail Travel Hard Hit by Storm; Mail Planes Halted

TOLEDO, Mar. 25.—Fifteen families were marooned in their homes today when a stiff northeast gale swept the waters of Maumee Bay over the breakwaters at Carland beach and other point place regions.

Water in the low-lying residential district was reported at a depth of several feet. Furnace fires in many homes were flooded out.

Traffic in that district was disrupted.

A severe sleet storm, which also reached into Wood county, bordering this area, followed the gale.

Telephone poles and wires in southern Lucas and northern Wood county were leveled. Traffic on the Dixie highway was entirely stopped for a few hours when the falling telephone poles obstructed that highway.

Car Traffic Late

All interurban cars running into the city were reported late.

Trouble calls began to reach the Toledo Edison Co. early today when wires started to crack under the strain of sleet and the force of winds.

At the transcontinental airport all mail planes were kept on the ground.

CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—An unseasonal spring blizzard lashed the Chicago area today, crippling automobile traffic and tying up train schedules.

Driven before a northwest gale, more than two inches of snow had fallen early today. Shortly after midnight a steady rain turned to snow and a heavy fall which continued all night blanketed the southern Lake Michigan area.

In many places the wind had drifted piles of snow to a depth of two feet. Air mail schedules here were temporarily abandoned due to the severity of the storm.

One death was attributed to the spring blizzard, Edgar Tompkins, 42, a local office employee, was found dead on the sidewalk near his home with his neck broken. Apparently he slipped and fell.

CONTINUE HUNT FOR HORST BOY

Body May Lie in Muck In Bottom of Pond At Country Club

WOOSTER, O., March 21.—A conference on engineering methods was called today before proceeding with the search in the Orrville Country club pond for four-year-old Melvin Horst.

Officials called a meeting to decide whether to attempt to turn over all the yard-deep layer of muck which covers the bottom of the pond, now drained of its water, or whether to wait for it to dry out. Meanwhile, rains threatened to undo the drainage work.

Street Commissioner James Caskey averted an impending refilling of the pond by digging a new channel for the creek which enters it so that the water would drain away.

The present hunt for the body of Melvin, missing 15 months, was prompted by a new set of directions from Charles Hannah, who says he killed the boy but has baffled authorities by his failure to lead them to the body. Other searches based on his tales have failed to produce the body.

Country Club Names Directors For Year

Five directors were elected for three years, and reports given at the annual stockholders' meeting of the Salem Country club Monday night at Memorial building, marked by a large attendance.

The directors are: K. L. Webster, N. L. Reich, J. A. Probert, W. G. Aldom, R. C. Kridler.

The fish hatchery was completed last year, and it is reported that several thousand fish were turned into the club lake.

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the board of directors in the near future, and the program for activities taken up as the season advances.

PROFESSIONAL ARSON

Federal and state authorities have uncovered in New York City the latest thing in racketeering—professional arson. Destruction by fire in order to get insurance is an old story, but the New York case offers a confession from a professional fire-setter who admits having burned up seven stocks of goods entailing losses on the part of insurance companies of $500,000.

The arrest of this unique racketeer was a development of a fur firm. In making a case against them, the government and the state got a line on the activities of the arsonist who charges $3,000 a job and has operated widely. The first part of his game is to convince a merchant or firm in hard times that a fire is better than bankruptcy, where the books always remain to make trouble, or a fake burglary, because of the persistence of the police in looking for stolen goods.

The merchant or firm convinced, the arsonist hires a nearby room, holding out that he is in the chemical business. He buys five-gallon cans of alcohol, which are hidden away in the store to be burned. This may take weeks, even months. When a sufficient quantity of alcohol is on hand—200 gallons were used in the fire for which the indictments were returned—it is emptied into barrels, a barrel on each of two, three or four floors, as the case may require. The tins are hauled away and a punk stick, like a boy uses in lighting firecrackers, is set afire and so placed as to ignite matches near each barrel. This done, the incendiary turns on the spigots in the barrels and departs. It may take an hour or two for the smoldering punk to fire the matches, but when it happens the store immediately becomes a blazing furnace. As an added feature of the scheme, one of the fur merchants indicted, confessed that before the fire was started he removed $140,000 worth of insured furs to his brother's store, expecting to sell them.

If there are convictions, the merchants and the firebug they hired will face sentences aggregating many years. The federal charge is the use of mails to defraud, each letter written by the merchants to the insurance companies giving ground for a separate count. The state prosecutes a charge of arson. In connection with the case Fire Marshal Brophy, of New York, made the statement that notwithstanding the fact that the present has been the worst year in the fur trade in twenty years there hasn't been another fire of the kind described, as far as he knows. He recalls that this is quite different from his experiences in other periods of depression. In addition to offering a trade in twenty years there hasn't been another fire insight into the ingenuity of the criminal mind, such a scheme gives one reason why insurance companies charge high rates for fire protection.

Forty-four co-eds of Bucknell university at Lewisburg, Pa., are being disciplined for smoking in their rooms by being barred for six months from strolling over the campus of making dates. Doesn't this fall under the classification of cruel and unusual punishment forbidden by the constitution?

Mr. Coolidge says that "most of all I should like to be left alone for a while." Has Calvin ever thought of learning to play a saxophone or a b-flat clarinet?

The probable truth is that the greatest handicap under which Mr. Doheny suffers in his present trial is that he's a multi-millionaire.

What Others Say

TOO CARELESS WITH FIGURES
Some of the national statisticians seem to be getting out of bounds. They handle big figure recklessly, and to the utter contradiction of each other. For example, a Westinghouse expert tells us that the cost of industrial accidents in the United States last year was $12,000,000,000. The traffic division comes along with the report of a loss no less staggering. Then some of the chain newspapers put the stock market losses at $50,000,000,000. Social service wardens who are trying to save the unsavory investor from investments of the blue sky order put the loss in this division at $5,000,000,000 a year. Personal gambling losses, representing every venture from dice and the ponies to blue chip games, account for another $10,000,000,000. The tourist manages to run up a yearly bill of several billions in his summer vacations, while the collective outgo for sport and amusement is as large as the Old World war debt.

Now it is apparent that some one is overdrinking the figures here. A nation called upon every year to sustain the shock of such vast loss or waste would be hanging upon the ropes, instead of serving as exemplar of world progress, which all its neighbors envy. The truth probably is that the same fellow who summed up the losses of the German army in the early days of the World war, and who within a month had run up a total exceeding Germany's population, has probably been pawing over the record of our losses or extravagance and is making them to appear much larger than they really are.—Akron Beacon Journal.

HAZARDS IN INDUSTRY

According to the latest Federal census, there are 42 million people employed in gainful occupations in this country. This is a vast army. The machine age in which we live has given to the working man a higher standard of living than that possessed in any other age. He has shorter hours, better conditions of employment, and higher wages. But the modern methods demand rigid, machine-like service which tends to make man's work equally mechanical. He is driven into grooves. Human values become machine values. The drabness and monotony of machine power is having its effects on the general health of workers. There is no doubt.

Very often do we hear that men, women and children are being exploited in the industrial world, but after all they are infinitely better off than in former times. In the old days, the industrial worker was exposed to many dangers. Children, especially, fell under the deplorable conditions of the sweat shop.

There are many problems yet to be solved. Not yet have industrial workers the proper physical examinations. Illness and physical disabilities must be detected and treated. Facilities for healthful living conditions in the home and recreation sufficient to maintain health, are lacking in many industrial communities.

Today the health officer and the professional health worker are working side by side to bring about better health conditions in many of these industrial communities. But there is still room for the regulation of health protection and health promotion in many states.

Education for the worker in industry is needed badly. He must have a proper knowledge of healthful living.

His home environment must be improved. His recreational facilities must be made an important part of his daily life. His health and mental vigor depend very much on the proper use of his leisure hours. He must have sufficient exercise, if he is working in a sedentary occupation, and plenty of fresh air and sunshine to keep physically fit.

We need further child protection in labor. Until 1909, there were no laws made preventing children from entering dangerous trades. Since that time 50 occupations have been closed to children under sixteen years of age.

Children in industry are exposed to all sorts of contagion, and infection in early youth takes a heavy toll in diseases in later life. These diseases from various infections of the body are called the "degenerative diseases." It is a tremendous problem to meet the health hazards of children in industry.

Safety measures for the protection of workers in industry are many, and yet we are appalled at the great number of accidents among factory employees, and those in other occupations. More protection for workers is needed, more knowledge on the part of the worker how to maintain good health.

Answers to Health Queries

ROBERT E. S. Q.—What would you advise for varicose veins?

A.—In most cases surgical procedure is necessary. Applications of warm salt water are beneficial in some instances.

T. J. Q.—What will cause the back of my neck to feel stiff?

A.—This may be due to indigestion. The diet should be corrected.

E. M. M. Q.—What would you advise for varicose ulcers?

Wednesday, March 26th.

The sidereal operations for this day promise some small complications, anxieties and delays but as a general thing affairs are lively and hold a measure of advancement. Literary and business matters should find high stimulus.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a lively and progressive year despite small anxieties, delays and complications. A child born on this should be clever, versatile, shrewd and fairly successful.

Communists Attack U. S. River Vessel

SHANGHAI, Mar. 23.—The American Yangtze river steamer "Huang" was fired on yesterday by Communists waving red flags, 200 miles above Hankow.

The steamer was subjected to a sharp rifle barrage which was returned by the American armed guard aboard the vessel. P. C. H. Roberts, member of the American guard was wounded in the left arm during the skirmish.

OUR READERS

WHAT LET'S TALK ABOUT?

Editor The News:
Now that our town clock has won equal lights with the ecclesiastical institutions which chime the hours of time both day and night, we should think up something else to talk about. But what subject could we raise that would be of interest to all the readers? Much we could talk of, but much more so that may not be discussed in the open forum of The News.

Prohibition, for instance, furnishes a timely subject but it has already been overworked. Were it not for that, we would here try and show, 1st.—That when a dry complaint of lax law enforcement, he is thinking only of the Eighteenth Amendment. 2nd.—That he cares nothing for the enforcement of the Federal Constitution as a whole, and 3rd.—That he is constantly breaking many Constitutional amendments for the purpose of apprehending the citizen who is supposed to be breaking only one.

However, in passing over that much argued subject in quest of one less talked about, we might take up the length of the feminine skirt and perhaps find something there to talk about. But here, again, we must desist; for courtesy of trade forbids us from trespassing on the fields of the "Tummies". We must stick to our line and try and find something more serious to talk about—something like anarchy, communism or evolution. But the moment we think upon such subjects, there come to mind so many things we dare not say that rather than apply the soft pedal, we'd pass them by altogether.

Washington's birthday is past, and therefore would not be considered a timely subject. Yet it might be well here to remember that the cherry-tree episode has been declared a myth. I do not know why that attack was made upon Washington's truthfulness; for George's long vaunted veracity was the only uncharacteristic of that young man left for the youth of America to emulate. Don't blame our boys and girls if they are caught being. If the fathers of today have more respect for a verity that will be necessary than for a puerility too cowardly to protect itself, we must abide by its consequences.

The life of Lincoln is a prolific of themes for discussion; but we must also pass these by; for many a head has been thwacked since Lincoln's day for saying less from a political soap box than Lincoln said in his inaugural address.

It is not an easy matter to raise a subject for open discussion, for we must not only guard our heads, but select a topic that doesn't cover too much ground. What they are doing in our state capitals, doesn't concern the rank and file. Besides, an argument based upon any of the doings there, would only result in a question of politics or religion. Were it not for that, we might here suggest a discussion on Soviet Russia's attitude towards religion.

Perhaps the only subject of any importance we might discuss with our fear or favor would be Einstein's theory of relativity. Yes, let us discuss that—but no. A debate upon that would necessitate a preliminary course in lexicography. The readers would first have to become acquainted with the newly coined words by which the mysteries incident to this new field of thought are explained.

Although there may be many interesting subjects we might argue pro and con, yet in reviewing my list I find scarcely any that will admit of free discussion. If they are not harkened, they are untimely; if timely, they are either too deep or spectacular.

Although I have thus failed in finding something of fundamental interest to all, I have, nevertheless, hit upon sort of a bi-subject to talk about—one that is guaranteed to cause no pain to aggressive gases of secular or ecclesiastical rheumatism. Of course it naturally follows that it doesn't amount to much, sufficient that it lends something to talk about. It will, however, be of special interest to the citizens living on the West side, who are therefore compelled to negotiate the railroad crossing on W. State St. several times a day.

I know a very religious man living over there who refuses to attend church on Sundays. The distance between his home and the church is too great to be taken on foot; and to cross the railroad in automobile, always makes him swear. Consequently he protects his sanctity by remaining at home on Sundays.

D. H. RUMMEL.

ANENT THE TRIAL

Editor The News:
A point not properly emphasized in last evening's trial. The acts argue that because the manufacture and traffic in liquors is prohibited that it therefore COMPELS people to drink bootleg liquor. This is absurd and absolutely false. The bootleg brand is just as much prohibited as any old brand.

It is up to the government to make prohibition prohibit politically, collectively.

It is up to the individual to make it prohibit individually.

Shakespeare asked this question centuries before prohibition was ever thought of: "Why do men put a thief into their mouths to steal away their brains?"

The English have this little slogan:

"There is a little public house (saloon)."

That every one may close And that's the little public house (saloon).

Just beneath one's nose."

Whoso puts liquor into their system casts discretion, judgment, self-control and righteousness to the four winds.

"Be not deceived. God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. If he sow to the flesh he shall of the flesh reap corruption. If he sow to the Spirit, he shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." Galatians 6:7-8.

TRY THE SALEM NEWS

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

Lincoln had twice visited Cincinnati before he went there in 1859 to speak in the Ohio campaign, and on each previous occasion had an unpleasant experience which moved him to dedicate as he was leaving after his second visit that he never expected to visit the city again.

But when, after Douglas had spoken in the Ohio campaign of 1859 the Ohio Republican committee invited Lincoln to come into the state and speak he accepted, even though the plan was to have one of his speeches made in Cincinnati, then the state metropolis.

Lincoln was then the outstanding figure of the party in the west and the Ohio committee felt that it was fortunate in securing his services. Of course the committee was to pay his expenses while here. His reception at Cincinnati was enthusiastic and noisy. Bands and marching organizations escorted him and cannon boomed a welcome.

Mr. Lincoln was entertained at the Burnet House and remained two days after the meeting he addressed—three days in all. When he prepared to leave for home he called at the clerk's desk and asked for his bill. He was informed that that had been taken care of.

Nearly a year later, after Mr. Lincoln had been nominated for the presidency and was awaiting the verdict of the people as to that, he received a letter from the Burnet House proprietors endorsing a bill for his entertainment. Naturally it made him indignant. In addition to the implied charge of trying to beat the hotel, there were items in the account that provoked him. One was for cigars and liquor sent to room 15.

The fact probably was that the state committee had informed the hotel clerk that the bill for Mr. Lincoln's entertainment should be sent to it and would be paid, and that as often happens with political committees it did not keep its word. The hotel people feeling sure that being a candidate Mr. Lincoln would pay at once and avoid publicity, hurried the bill to him before his election. Lincoln's reply, reflected the indignation he felt. As to the liquor and cigars he said that they might have been sent to room 15, but he saw none of them.

Why Folks Stay Fat

Not always because of over-eating, but because a gland is weak. That gland largely controls nutrition. When it is weak one may nearly starve, yet stay fat.

Modern physicians the world over now combat this great cause of obesity. And excess fat, in late years, has been disappearing fast.

Marmola prescription tablets contain the chief factors which they use. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. And countless slender figures everywhere now show the amazing effects.

Go try this right method to reduce. Stop starving. Read the book in the box with the formula and reasons. Ask your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola and watch the change.

FILM STAR OUT AIRPLANE WHEN SHIP CRASHES

Wallace Beery Not With
"Joy Ride" Party As
Mishap Occurs

(By The Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 25.—Wallace Beery's cabin biplane, in which the film villain expected soon to fly to Mexico City, today lay in ruins in a dry wash near Alhambra, Cal., where it crashed yesterday, bringing death to two men and a woman. Beery was not aboard the ship.

George Maves, 23, Beery's personal pilot, his wife, Cynthia Maves and Lynn H. Hayes, 26, transport pilot and friend of Maves, were killed when the plane crashed and burst into flames after going into a spin at 500 feet. It struck only a short distance from Valley boulevard, one of the main highways south from Los Angeles.

Witnesses said the plane apparently developed trouble shortly after taking off from the Burbank airport on a cruise over the San Gabriel valley.

Beery said, when informed of the accident that he was unaware that Maves had taken the plane from its hangar. The screen player himself a pilot, said Maves had been employed only to take care of the plane on the ground, and had never had permission to use the ship for personal flights.

Beery could give no reason for the crash. He said he had flown the ship five hours Sunday, and that it was performing perfectly at that time.

STUDENTS BUY LIQUOR, CLAIM

Washington Man Tells of Purchase
By High School Boys And Girls in Capital

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Starting charges that high school students were buying whisky within a half mile of the capitol were being pondered by school authorities today, some were told.

Henry W. Lynn, street railway expert, testifying before the house district committee in opposition to a proposal to grant free car rides for school children, declared it would only give them more money to spend for whisky, rouge and cigarettes.

Lynn told the committee he had personal knowledge of drinking by students at Eastern high school.

"Right down here by the Eastern high school," Lynn said, "there is a place that sells anywhere from sandwiches to pigfeet in the front room and they can go into the back room and buy whisky."

"I was in the place myself to get a shot, which I take occasionally, and while in there two high school boys came in and two girls and bought a half pint of whisky and the four of them drank it."

"Also while I was in there a girl about nine years old came in and said: 'Mother says to send her a gift.' They put a girl in a half pint bottle. She paid a quarter for it and went out."

ERNEST WATZL

Watzl, used the woman's passport in registering at the hotel where they died.

The suggestion was offered here, in apparent contradiction of the theory that the girl was Mrs. McGranahan, of Cleveland, that she married in Europe before visiting America where she tried unsuccessfully to sell certain chemical patents. In such a case it was held probable that Watzl met her in the United States about four months ago.

Leave Many Letters.

The numerous letters left in the room were said by police to have incomplete Cleveland and continental addresses on them. The contents were said to be confused.

Missing since Nov. 7, 1929, but for a few strange circumstances Dr. Watzl would have been given up for dead. At that time he left Cleveland in his car for Philadelphia where he was to present a new water purification process to the city authorities with prospects of adoption. A few hours later his car was found burned near Pottstown, Pa., with indications pointing to searing by flame aided by extra oxygen or some chemical.

Doubts that he had died were emphasized when his insurance premiums were kept paid up from some mysterious source.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Mary McGranahan, a former secretary of the chemist, vanished and her husband, James McGranahan, sued for divorce and filed $50,000 alienation of affections suit against Watzl.

Dr. Watzl first went to Cleveland in 1912 in connection with some chemical work, but with the outbreak of the war went back to Austria where he became captain of a liquid fire division on the Italian front. His wife, whom he married in Austria, remained with him in Cleveland during the war. He returned to Cleveland four years ago.

His widow, Mrs. Marie Watzl and two children live in Cleveland.

GINGER SALES UNDER SURVEY

Ban May Be Placed After Many Are Made Ill By Preparation

CINCINNATI, March 25.—Report of 21 new cases of paralysis at General hospital here, today brought from federal county and city officials the assertion that a ban on sale of Jamaica ginger was being contemplated.

Physicians stated they had positive proof a poison in the ginger was responsible for more than three score cases of the paralysis here, although they have not been able to determine what poison it is. Dr. Charles Kiely, director of neurology at General hospital said any one of 158 chemicals used in denaturing alcohol might be responsible for the paralysis, because of the alcohol in the ginger.

The victims are paralyzed in their lower legs and arms.

GANGLAND WILL DEFEND CASES

To Raise Vast Sum To Be Used In Fighting Criminal Actions;
City Will Retaliate

CHICAGO, Mar. 25.—Today's Herald and Examiner said gangland was gathering a vast defense fund to combat the anti-crime drive of the "secret six."

The challenge of cash was immediately accepted by Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chamber of Commerce and only known member of the committee known as the "secret six."

"If they can raise a million dollars, we can raise two or three million," he admonished.

The paper said the "defense fund" was to be used the first time in the trial of five alleged extortionists indicted for kidnapping Theodore Kopelman, wealthy insurance broker, and holding him for ransom.

A continuance was granted until Friday when Judge Harry B. Miller called the case to trial yesterday.

Crash Information Can Be Held Secret

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Publication of information relative to the causes of individual airplane accidents is not required by the air commerce act, according to a ruling of Attorney General Mitchell which was made public at the commerce department today.

Mitchell held that the method of publication of this information is largely within the discretion of the secretary of commerce. He approved the statistical method, under which the causes of accidents are made public without reference to individual accidents.

Body of Ohio Man Found In France

PARIS, March 25.—The body of Fritz Tschappat, 29, naturalized American of Dover, O., was found floating yesterday in River Seine. Police believed he was a suicide. Since money and valuables still were in his pockets.

MURDER JURY NOW SELECTED

Call New Panel In Case Of Glenn Dague In Pennsylvania

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 25.—A jury was completed today to try Glenn Dague for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul near here last Dec. 27, a crime for which Dague's sweetheart, Irene Shrader, already has been doomed to die.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 25.—Retelling in court of the story of the slaying of state highway patrolman, Brady Paul, today awaited selection of the three persons needed to complete the jury to try W. Glenn Dague, Wheeling, W. Va., automobile salesman, on a charge of murder.

Six men and three women were seated in the box last night when court adjourned. Two panels were exhausted in their selection and a third panel was summoned for today.

Widespread publicity given the case during the trial of Mrs. Irene Shrader, who was convicted of first degree murder for her part in the slaying, resulted in many ventremen having formed fixed opinions and being unable to serve.

Dague and Mrs. Shrader held up a Butler, Pa. store last Dec. 27. Corporal Paul was slain while questioning the two and Mrs. Shrader's brother, Tom Crawford, after halting their automobile near New Castle a short time later.

Final Tax Payment To Come April 15

LISBON, Mar. 25.—Although many taxing districts in Columbiana county have been granted an advance from the December tax collection by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker, it is believed that the final settlement will be made on or about April 15.

For some years the county commissioners have been solicited by the commercial interests of the county to extend the time limit for the payment of taxes, and this as a matter of fact sets back the final payment from the settlement for at least 30 days.

In the meantime, however, numerous advances have been made to the various taxing districts to carry them over until the final settlement period.

HUSBAND WILL GET ALIMONY

Court Order Reverses Usual Law;
Wife Must Also Pay For
New Set Of Teeth

DETROIT, MICH., Mar. 25.—Wolf B. Lakritz is going to have a new $100 set of teeth, his wife paying the bill, and what's more he is going to have $3 a week alimony.

All this shower of good fortune came upon Mr. Lakritz yesterday when he appeared in court seeking a divorce, charging his wife, Lena, with cruelty. Mrs. Lakritz, he said, took over all his property as fast as he acquired it and when he became ill she refused to give him any money.

Judge Maurice McMahon, in granting the divorce reversed the usual order of things, and gave Mr. Lakritz $3 a week alimony, ordering Mrs. Lakritz to buy him a new set of teeth, the cost not to exceed $100.

MANUFACTURER HELD ON BOND

Shooting of Two Union Men Follows Trial In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, March 25.—Joseph Bloomfield, garment manufacturer, was free under $2,500 bond on a suspicious person charge today while two organizers of union workers nursed bullet wounds from his gun received just as they were leaving court late yesterday.

Bloomfield, vice president of a company which led the struggle against the recent strike of the International Ladies Garment Workers union, said the discharge of the gun was accidental. His victims, Charles Kreindler, vice president of the union, and Louis Friend, chairman of the joint board of Cleveland garment workers, had different accounts and announced through their attorney that they would charge Bloomfield with the shooting.

The revolver was discharged at the end of a court hearing on a contempt citation against 30 union garment workers. Bloomfield said the gun dropped from his pocket. He was booked on a suspicious person charge and released under bond. He had a police permit to carry the gun. Kreindler was shot in the leg and Friend in the wrist.

Mrs. Paul Taylor, honorary member, was a guest at a meeting of the Music Study Club Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Hayden, South Penn st. She contributed two readings.

The subject, "Berlioz, Franck, Saint-Saens, d'Indy" was given by Mrs. J. W. Astor.

These numbers composed the program: Piano solos, "Air de Ballet" (Victor Herbert) and "To a Wild Rose" (MacDowell), Mrs. Charles Snyder, vocal solos, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" (St. Saens) and "Man and Woman" (Carrie Jacobs Bond), Mrs. L. D. Cessna, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Hundertmark; piano duets, "The Swan" (St. Saens) and "Serenade d'Amour" (Van Blow), Mrs. Hundertmark and Miss Hilda Franke. The next meeting on April 14 will be with Mrs. J. W. Hendricks, Goheen rd.

HESS-HANNAY

Announcement was made Tuesday of the marriage of Miss Katherine Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hess, and Ray Hannay, son of Mrs. Clyde Anglemeyer, of Salem, which was an event of Sept. 15, last, at Mountville, W. Va.

Mrs. Hannay is a graduate of Salem High school. Mr. Hannay is employed at the Oakland garage, in Youngstown, and the young people will make their home in Youngstown.

POST-NUPITAL SHOWER

Eighty friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Jr., complimented them with a miscellaneous shower Saturday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Doyle, Sr., Lisbon rd. They received many gifts for their new home.

The hours were enjoyed informally and lunch was served. Some of the guests were from Rock Island, Ill., East Rochester, Lisbon, Damascus.

JUST-A-MERE CLUB

Three tables were engaged at five hundred at a meeting of the Just-A-Mere club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Litt, East Third st.

Honors in the games were shared by Mrs. Harry Houpp and Mrs. John Kerr. In two weeks the members will meet with Mrs. Blanche Scullion, East Third st.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

A marriage license has been issued to Ray Duck, of Rogers, miner, and Miss Erma Walters, of Rogers, formerly of Elkrun township, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Walters.

Joe Davner, of Leetonia, shipping clerk, and Lillian Felesky, of Leetonia, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Felesky, have obtained a marriage license, and were married at the parsonage of the Lisbon U. P. church by the Rev. J. M. Cameron.

SPENCER CLASS

Mrs. Thomas Spencer's class of the Presbyterian church will hold a social meeting at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. John Koontz, Tenth st.

John Stratton, Washington, ave., manager of the Peoples Lumber company, who has been ill of pneumonia for nearly five weeks, is reported to be improving.

Mrs. George Pannel, of Rock Island, Ill., was called here by the serious illness of her father, David S. Peppel, Lisbon rd. Mr. Peppel is reported to be improving.

Mrs. William Fleischer, of South ave., is spending the week in Cleveland with her mother, Mrs. R. C. Garrison, formerly of Salem.

Russell Cyrus, of Chicago, who came home to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Edythe Cyrus, will return Saturday.

Dr. P. R. Croggy has moved his office from over MacMillan's store, on East State st., to 129 North Lincoln ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young, of Pittsburgh, have concluded a brief visit with Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Hawkins, Franklin st.

sickly for the benefit of one class, the proletariat. We run the machine primarily for the benefit of the individual.

NOT QUITE ACCURATE. Russia runs its governing machine as a sort of experimental laboratory, with the proletariat, fancy name for working people, used as raw material. We run our government machine primarily for the benefit of great industrial and financial units. Who does not know that, knows little. Our workers get enough to live, with a meager extra to keep them cheerful.

With us, they are consumers as well as the producers, which means great progress. They use automobiles, radio sets, vacuum cleaners, bathtubs, created by them, and are content. More than 90 in 100 Americans die, earning less than $100. But as they cannot take even that much with them, it makes little difference. Russia is making an interesting experiment, and incidentally, worrying considerably the financial industrial powers of other nations, with the threat of competition based on a wage cost basis.

THE SO-CALLED WAR against religion denied by the head of the Russian church and the chief rabbi of all Russia, is foolish and will correct itself. Man is a religious being, his eternal fears and questionings soon bring him back to search for an explanation above reasoning powers.

English Evening Gown of Yellow Satin

The gown pictured above of yellow satin with a jeweled belt is the latest patronized by fastidious debutantes for evening wear. It is made with a V neck line and the skirt is slightly trained in the back and shorter in the front.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Just isn't what it used to be. In the old-fashioned home the yearly accumulation was inevitable. Heretofore treatment was necessary to remove the last speck of dust from carpets, high hangings, huge pictures, deep upholstery in the days of corn brooms and feather dusters. Single handed, no woman attempted to make a weekly job of it. But it had to be done once a year.

And what a relief of terror that was both for the family as well as the woman who did the work. Tradition demanded that every object be removed from its accustomed place while the battle raged against hidden dust.

But what with vacuum cleaners which take very little in the way of muscular effort to operate, plus various convenient sizes and shapes of brushes and dustless dusters, it's less of a job to thoroughly clean a modern home each week than the annual upheaval of a decade or two ago. Spring cleaning indeed isn't the necessary function it used to be, because we no longer have that inevitable accumulation of dust.

Modern tools are in the household. Nor does it involve great expense and a great deal of equipment. Of course, it is possible to acquire dozens of brooms and brushes and polishes and cloths and pastes. But before any extensive investment is made in such equipment, it is desirable to get one thing straight. A house may be kept immaculate by dust prevention and dust resistance as well as by excessive cleaning.

First, what can be done to prevent dust from entering? It usually enters from the windows. And there are now any number of ways to keep the air clean in but keep the dust out. Such dust screens can even be made at home—merely by covering a screen with coarse cheesecloth. If

COLUMBIANA

About 60 were present at the annual Columbian high school basketball banquet given by the School Athletic association and held Friday evening at the school building. The guests included members of both boys and girls teams, sponsors, managers, cheer leaders and members of the faculty. An excellent dinner was served by the mothers of some of the players, assisted by the women members of the high school faculty. Coach Donald Barbe served as toastmaster, and among those responding to toasts were Supt. F. J. Sewall, Miss Mary Marquit and team captain, Francis Sanderly. An excellent program and musical numbers included accordion solo by Andy Andrich, and a violin solo by Eleanor Lehman, with Virginia Shaffer as accompanist.

The final week of preparation for the high school opera, "The Belles of Beaujolais," to be given Friday and Saturday nights at the school auditorium, is a busy period for the director, Miss Gertrude Roe, who drills various groups of chorists. Numbers and costumes are being made in the afternoon, and during the evenings, Miss Ruth McCord, who so ably served as accompanist for the seventh-grade opera, will officiate in the same capacity again. Reserved seats are on sale at Clapps drug store. The cast membership includes: Evelyn Wining, Ruth Beard, Alice Lodge, Betty Britton, Virginia Shaffer, Eleanor Shearer, Catherine Detwiler, Hubert Clapp, Willard Hoffman, James Barrow, Frank Baker, William Arbuckle, Eugene Crawford and William Keller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Heim entertained club associates Thursday evening at their home, Stanton ave. Four tables of cards being in play. Following the game a delicious lunch was served. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. Green, Rogers; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grindie, North Lima. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Taylor will entertain at the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Whitehouse, the Moses Kathryn Donbar and Verda Hays, Paul Johnson and Walter Peral were entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Donbar, Youngstown, the affair being in honor of Mr. Ferrall, who has now resumed his studies at Ohio State university following the spring vacation.

The opera, "The Sunbonnet Girl," is to be presented Wednesday evening by the pupils of Fairfield high school at the school auditorium, under the direction of the music supervisor, Mrs. Paul Price. The annual business meeting and covered dish dinner of the L. L. class of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be held Wednesday evening at the church, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. The election of officers will take place at this meeting.

The local fire department were called out about 9:30 a. m. Saturday to put out a fire in the residence of Presley Wilson, South Elm st. The interior and furnishings of the home were badly damaged by the fire which is said to have caught in the attic from an overheated fuse. Among the out-of-town shoppers in Columbiana Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Stewart and sons, of New Springfield; and Mr. and Mrs. George Yarian and son, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Rupert and family, of New Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rapp and family are moving from Woodland ave., to the Keyser farm south of Columbiana.

Vincent Tullis, Youngstown, has opened a shoe repair shop in the Frederick property, South Main st., formerly occupied by Wm. Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rapp and family are moving from Woodland ave., to the Keyser farm south of Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Menzer and daughter, of North Lima, were Columbiana shoppers Saturday evening.

Today's Pattern

THERE is a subtle charm about this stunning frock with its gracefully tied cape collar and its elbow length sleeves softly finished with flares. The slightly molded bodice and the rounded skirt joining, are interesting details of the present mode. A dainty bit of lace forms the becoming vestee.

Design 1859 is beautiful made of fine crepe, georgette or Elizabeth crepe. In solid color, or printed tiny patterns, this frock will be a charming addition to the new wardrobe. Designed only for sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 40 inch material and 1 1/2 yard lace.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

STYLE EDICTS

PARIS, March 25.—Discreetly demure are some of the lovely dresses now appearing at the smart dress-makers in Paris. They will be all the more alluring when worn at some of the new ultra-modern cabarets which are being opened up every day, such as "Les Enfants Terribles," which is next door and a part of the new Theatre Pigalle, and which one American called a "nice refrigerator because of its white and silver decorations."

Maggy Rouff fosters the very demure feminine attitude by giving her evening girl a bouquet of artificial flowers to hold at the waist or near the shoulder. These 1930 nosegays replace the old portebouquet of 1830. With a charming peppy printed satin on white background is carried a demure little nosegay of the same posies and a charming melon-yellow printed in black lace design has old-fashioned marigolds to go with it.

Yvonne Carette is showing a delightfully demure ensemble called "Marie Louise" in white crepe de Chine beaded diagonally all over. The top of the waist is yoked in white, while the skirt and short jacket are in black. The bodice is draped in the front and the coat which is very short, has a collar and band at the hem in a close haired black fur.

Frocks made of narrow finely-pleated ruffles running from top to bottom have a charming old-fashioned touch about them and reach to the ankles. They are worn with long lace mittens.

Trial Postponed

MILLERSBURG, O., March 25.—Trial of Mrs. Madeo Sevasto of Kibuck, on a second degree murder charge in connection with the fatal shooting of her husband, Jan. 27, has been postponed until April 7.

CHICAGO — Mrs. Josephine Strange recently filed suit for divorce here, charging that her husband took a drink from their Christmas turkey and beat her with it. The husband denied the charge.

MOVIES

AT THE STATE
One of the outstanding scenes in "The Mighty," George Bancroft's latest starring picture, which will show at the State theatre soon, was filmed in a railroad dining car. Bancroft and Raymond Hatton eat lunch in this scene as the view from the window changes rapidly—from open country to the outskirts of a city, the railroad yards and the station itself.

"The Mighty" is all-talking, and, for the first time, a sound truck was taken aboard a train to record scenes in this sequence. It is an excellent example of the amazingly good sound-recording now available for moving pictures.

A comedy news and revue complete the program.

AT THE GRAND
George Cooper—who is scarcely five and one-half feet tall and who weighs 150 pounds—plays the nautical buddy of Alan Hale—who stands six feet two in his stocking feet and who tips the scale at 229 pounds—in "Sailor's Holiday," a Pathe all-dialogue feature which will be seen at the Grand Theatre.

Cooper is a veteran of the stage and screen and won special praise for his work as the gold-graping pardner of Karl Dane in "The Trail of '98." Among his more recent pictures are "The Barker" and "Hell's Angels."

In "Sailor's Holiday," George Cooper augments a cast that includes in addition to Alan Hale, Sally Eilers, Paul Hurst, Mary Carr and Jack Richardson. Fred Newmeyer directed from an original story and script by Joseph Franklin Poland.

Weather Outlook

Apparently pivoted over northern Indiana, the southern portion of the great eastern "low" has swung eastward over the east gulf and south Atlantic states and unsettled weather with wide-spread precipitation now prevails over the eastern half of the country, heavy local rains occurring in the region of the storm center.

Snow is now falling over southern Michigan, northern Indiana and Illinois. Over the western half of the country the weather is mostly fair except local snows in the northern Rocky mountain states. It is generally colder over the Mississippi valley, the plain states and the lake region. As a result of the general eastward drift of the pressure areas during the next 24 hours, colder weather with snow may be expected in this vicinity tonight, followed on Wednesday by slightly colder and snow flurries, probably with strong westerly winds.

Why a Reserve Account?

HERE are some reasons for building regularly a reserve fund in a savings account:

- to build credit;
- to ward off adversity;
- to take care of you and yours should your income stop;
- to assure having money when you need it;
- to make you financially independent, and remember that nine out of ten people are dependent upon others when they reach the age of sixty-five.

These are some reasons for making that reserve account grow each month.

Johnny Risko Wins Unpopular Verdict Over Victorio Campolo

Crowd Favors Gaucho From South America Over Cleveland Lad

BY ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—Whether he ever climbs very high on the heavy championship ladder, Johnny Risko still is the Giant-killer of the prize ring.

Nevertheless, in the main event of a benefit card at Madison Square Garden last night, the pudgy Cleveland brawler needed some assistance from the charitable spirit of the occasion to take a close decision from his big Argentine rival, Victorio Campolo.

Risko, in a somewhat riotous finish to the job he began less than a month ago under the mellow moon of Miami, was given an unpopular victory over Campolo after 10 bruising rounds. The Argentine, to a vast majority of experts as well as spectators, appeared to have a substantial margin on points. But the chunky Cleveland cloutier gained the official verdict of a 2 to 1 ballot.

Donovan Gives Decision
Referee Arthur Donovan decided the issue by voting for Risko. The two judges were split, Charles F. Mathison voting for Campolo and George Patrick for Risko.

A crowd of 11,600 booted the verdict, even though it appeared a matter of poetic justice in behalf of Risko.

At Miami Johnny got only a draw, after appearing to have piled up a big lead on points. Last night Campolo manifested improvement, took the lead at the outset and seemed to have held a comfortable margin in spite of repeated warnings from the referee for illegal backhand chops or rabbit punches in the region of Risko's ear and neck. A ringside consensus showed Campolo credited with five rounds, Risko with three and two rated as even.

Newspapermen were divided in opinion as to whether the Miami or the New York decision in the Risko-Campolo feud was the worst, but they agreed that both were bad. The Miami verdict also was handed down by a New York arbiter, referee Kid McParland.

Campolo Rough, Claim
Referee Donovan indicated he was strongly awayed in his decision by the tactics of Campolo. The Gaucho of the Argentine, despite his lumbering, flat-footed stance, was much more aggressive than in Miami, but at close range he persisted in battering Risko behind the ear with a hammer-like blow. Johnny did not appear to object, nor was he much harmed thereby. But Donovan became so critical of the South American's methods, as the crowd booted, that he finally threatened to disqualify Victorio in the seventh round. Thereafter, Campolo let his right hand hand limp and tame at his side, as he met Risko's bull-like rushes.

In spite of his disagreement with the referee Campolo seemed to have the situation pretty well in hand. Except for the fourth, seventh and ninth, the Argentine either held his own or battered Johnny with vicious right-handed blows to the head. In the third and fifth, Campolo staggered Risko with powerful right-handers. Johnny kept his feet, however, under the heaviest of barrages, although in the very first round he was just missed bouncing on the floor from a right to the head. Risko was everlastingly game and aggressive. Despite the tremendous advantages he gave away in height, reach and weight—scaling 196 to Campolo's 225 1-2.

Walter Eckersall Is Victim To Illness In Chicago; Was Writer

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 25.—American amateur sport mourned today the death of one of its greatest figures, Walter Herbert Eckersall.

The heart which powered his 145-pound body through four years of football on Amos Alonzo Stagg's 1908-4-5-6 University of Chicago teams, yesterday gave up a several months' struggle against illness, and sadness caused by the death of his mother last fall, while he was serving as an official in the Army-Notre Dame football game in New York.

Telegrams Laud Man
Within a few hours after his death in his rooms at the Chicago Athletic association, telegrams expressing sorrow and paying tribute to his ability as an athlete, and his fairness as a sports writer, began to arrive at the Chicago Tribune, where for more than 20 years, he had been boxing and football expert.

Every telegram recalled some instance of his fame as a football player back in the days when it was "three downs for five yards," and the forward pass yet to become a feature of the game.

Harry Kipke, Michigan's young head football coach, who played in games in which Eckersall officiated, characterized him the best official in the country, and the best coaching staff on the University of Wisconsin, sent its deepest sympathy upon learning of the death of an official it once barred from its field, but later cordially invited to return to work some of its games.

Made Envious Records

While his fame as a field general, kicker and runner, outshone his other achievements, as a college athlete, Eckersall made enviable records in track, baseball and skating.

As a football official he ruthlessly inflicted penalties for flagrant fouls, but was slow to declare penalties on technicalities without warning.

Eckersall is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth, 19 years old; two sisters, Miss Etta Eckersall and Mrs. Stephen Anderson, of Chicago; and two brothers, Arthur, of Denver, and Elmer, of Gary, Ind.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at Holy Cross church.

Bell Has Bad Arm

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 25.—The condition of the throwing arm of Lester Bell, who was acquired to repair the Chicago Cubs' weak spot at third base, is causing manager Joe McCarthy more than a little concern. Bell's arm was sore when he reported and the lameness has become so alarming that the former Boston Brave infielder may be given a rest.

Melvin Ott Fooled By Change In Speed

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Mar. 25.—At this particular stage of the baseball training campaign, Melvin Ott, boy wonder of the New York Giants, has no liking for slow balls.

The shagging outfielder struck out twice and was safe once on a fielding error yesterday as canny old George Burns, one-time Giant outfielder, instructed his San Antonio pitchers to give Ott nothing but slow stuff. The Giants made only eight hits to San Antonio's ten, but won, 3-1.

Donie Bush Selects Pitchers for Tilts

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 25.—Manager Donie Bush, of the Chicago White Sox, has decided who will be his starting pitchers during the impending American league campaign, and is working on his selection of "extras."

Red Faber, Al Thomas, Ted Lyons, Dutch Henry and Hal McKinn, are Bush's first pick, with Pat Caraway, Ed Walsh, Jr., Bob Weiland and Ted Blankenship, the most prominent of the other hurling candidates.

"Ill Ten Years, Then Konjola Came to Rescue"

Columbus Man Speedily Relieved After Long Suffering From Stomach and Kidney Ills

MR. J. E. AULT

"For ten years I suffered from stomach and kidney trouble," said Mr. J. E. Ault, 2381 Williams St., Columbus. "The latter illness caused severe back pains and frequent night risings, which broke into my sleep and caused my general health to be badly run-down. Agony from accumulated gases in my stomach followed every meal. My heart was affected by this gas pressure and I became short of breath and dizzy. No medicine I tried did any good."

"Since taking Konjola I seldom get up at night and am enabled to eat at real night's sleep. The pains have left my back and my kidneys are functioning as they should. Gas no longer forms in my stomach after meals and the terrible bloating pains have gone. My appetite has increased and I eat heartily of nourishing foods. My entire system has been built up until I am in better health than I have been in years."

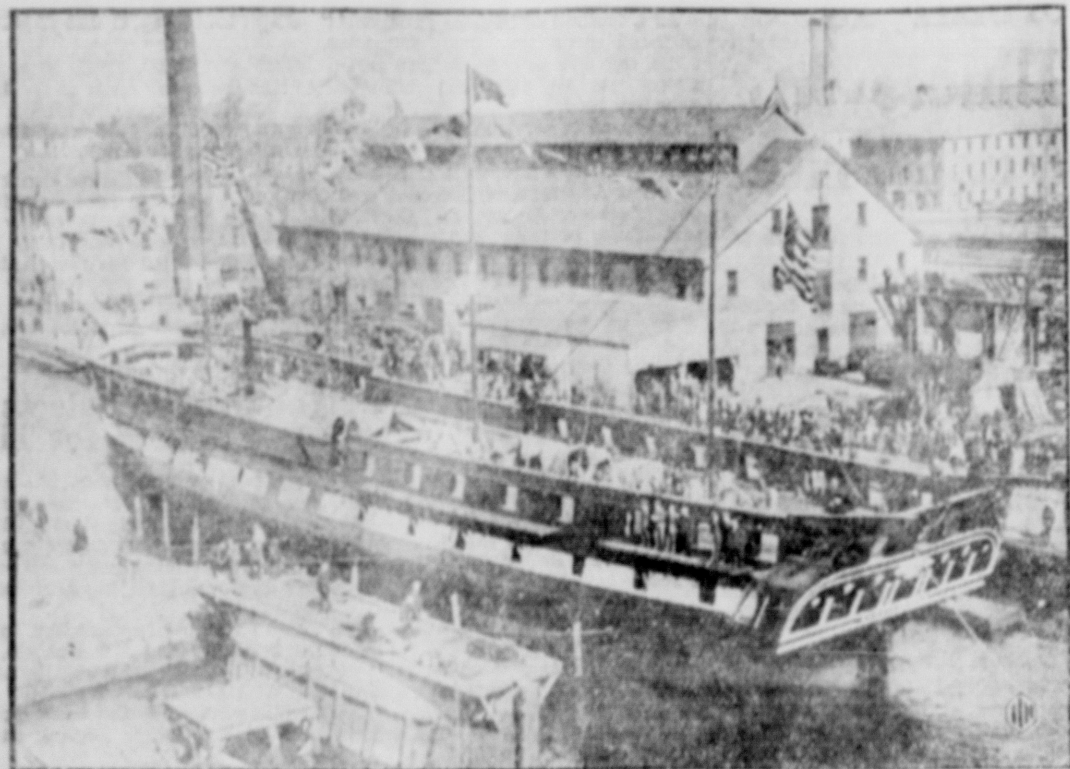

Konjola is sold in Salem at all Lease Drug Co. three stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

FARM NOTES Items of Interest Taken from Ohio Rural Districts

BECAUSE wool prices are already low, many wool producers are unnecessarily sacrificing several cents to the pound of what they might receive for their product, simply because they are not using care in preparing it for market, says A. A. Kaufman, extension specialist in sheep husbandry for the Ohio State University. Kaufman observes a tendency among the growers to slight their work when the price of the product is low anyhow, and thereby make their returns even smaller.

Carelessness in the growing, handling and tying of wool is always evident when wool prices are low as they are now, says Kaufman. "Thousands of pounds of reject wool, especially burry, stony, chaffy and coated wools, are offered for sale each year by Ohio wool growers. Many of these rejects could be made salable by more careful feeding and management of the flocks on the farms. Cleaning up fence corners and burying pastures would lessen the amount of such wool reaching the market. The lower value of such wools is due principally to the extra preparation which they require before they are manufactured. Extremely burry wools cannot be completely cleaned by combing, but must be put through a carbonizing process which greatly increases the cost of cleaning them."

Feed Rack Construction
"Feed racks so constructed as to keep staff from getting into the neck wools, and care in handling the backs of the sheep, will eliminate much of the stony and chaffy wool. Allowing sheep to run to hay racks or straw stacks cuts down the cost of the labor of feeding, but it also causes a considerable waste of feed and lowers the grade of the wool, especially when the sheep are allowed to run to stacks of timothy hay."

"Methods of shearing is another thing which influences the grade of the wool. Wool from sheep sheared immediately after a rain often moulds or rots. Give the sheep time to dry off before shearing. After shearing lay the fleece flesh side down, turn in the butt, belly, and neck parts until the better side and shoulder wools are on top, then roll the fleece into a neat package. Tie it securely but not too tightly. Usually two strands of twine each way will be enough to hold the fleece and yet not permit it to lose its loftiness."

"The fleece with paper twine or polished jute twine. Seal or old-fashioned wool twine should never be used, since the vegetable fibers from such twine mix with the wool and greatly lower its value. They will not take a dye and since they cannot be detected in the wool until it is made into finished goods, they must be removed either by hand or by carbonizing—both of them expensive processes.

This year, for the first time, the Wool Trades Association is backing a concerted movement to penalize all wools tied with other than paper or polished jute twine, and the association will inflict a substantial price penalty on all wool not tied with the approved twines."

FROM among more than 36,000 members of boys' and girls' 4-H clubs in Ohio, four have been selected to represent the state at the annual national 4-H club encampment to be held in Washington, D. C., in June.

The four Ohio club members are Carrie Butcher of Powell, Delaware county; Helen Culp of Bellefontaine, Logan county; Arthur Dreyer of Ashtabula, Ashtabula county, and Lawrence Roush of Letart, Fails county. They were selected by a state committee of officials of the boys' and girls' club department of the Agricultural Extension Service of the Ohio State University here, and their expenses will be born by state or county agencies interested in furthering 4-H club work.

Ability Was Basis
The four Ohio delegates were chosen not through any contest but on a basis of their general ability and qualifications and records in their club projects, as well as their indicated ability to bring back from the national camp information for the betterment of their fellow club

Dead Man's Dream Came True

Here is the late Dr. Percy Lowell, whose faith that a new heavenly friend might be found in the skies caused him to build the observatory in Arizona that found the planet sixteen years after his death.

Above is the relative size of the new planet as compared with that of Neptune. It and the earth are 8,000 miles in diameter. Neptune is 22,000 miles in diameter. It is fifty times as far from the sun as is our earth, so the sunlight must look to it like a pale moon. Its speed of revolution is one-twentieth that of the earth. While the earth revolves about the sun in one year, it takes the new planet about 300 years to revolve about the earth. Winter on the new planet, or Summer, would be about 75 years long.

members in the state. The camp will be pitched on the grounds of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, under the shadow of the Washington monument. Its program will include recreation, sight seeing, and instruction in 4-H club lore. Each state and territory is entitled to send four delegates to the national camp.

This year's delegation from Ohio has had from four to seven years experience in 4-H club work. All members have served as officers or leaders, as well as members, of the clubs to which they have belonged, and all of them propose to continue in club work as leaders. Three of them plan to attend the College of Agriculture of the Ohio State University here, next year.

Probate Court Activities

Probate Judge Lodge Riddle has announced there will be a hearing April 4 on the application of the United States Fidelity Co., to be removed as surety on the bond of Maud Polen, who is guardian of Edna May Polen.

An additional bond of $3,200 has been filed by Mrs. Kathrine Maxwell, guardian of four minor children, her daughters.

There will be a hearing May 2 on the first and final account filed in the estate of the late Robert C. Campbell by Clara Campbell as executrix.

Because of the death of James P. McGarry, executor of the estate of the late M. J. McGarry, the court has appointed Marie R. Steir as administratrix. While there will be no appraisal in this estate, the bond of the administratrix has been fixed at $10,000.

The appointment of the administrator for the estate of the late Joshua E. Hartman has been asked by the Peoples National bank of Wellsville. The court has set April 4 for a hearing on the application.

Following a hearing in Probate court, Attorney George T. Farrell of Lisbon and P. V. Mackall and Charles Boyd of East Liverpool have been allowed $250 each for services rendered in the matter of the estate of the late Monroe Patterson of East Liverpool. The court has further ordered that these counsel fees be paid by the administrator of the estate of the decedent.

The will of the late H. R. Anderson of East Liverpool has been filed and admitted to probate.

The first and final account of F. L. Wells as administrator under the will of the late John A. Smith will be up for hearing in Probate court May 2.

G. S. Thompson who has been appointed administrator for the estate of the late Susan Nevins of Negley will give $25,000 bond. The appraisal of this estate will be made by P. V. Mackall, Henry Holland and M. J. Bailey.

Authority has been granted by the court to Donald McCord to sell the stock in the estate of the late J. A. McCord.

In the appointment of Matthew L. Hans as administrator of the estate of the late Harry S. Shaffer of Salem, $1,000 bond is required. Appraisers named in this estate are J. H. Brian, Fred D. Capel and A. E. Beardmore.

Appointment of a guardian for Roy T. Hixon, an insane person has been asked in probate court by Bessie Hixon. The matter will come before the court Tuesday.

With his bond placed at $1,250 Robert C. Kridler of Salem has been named executor in the matter of the estate of the late Leah Jennings of Salem. There will be no appraisal in this estate.

In the estate of the late Mary M. Hays, the court has received the report of J. W. Shearer as to the sale of property, and he has been ordered to make a deed, the sale having been approved and confirmed by the court. The property was sold to Laura A. Chaley, and a distribution of the proceeds has also been ordered by the court.

Appraisers appointed in the estate of the late Robert S. Reynolds of East Liverpool are Mayor Ralph Benedict, Charles Carroll and Lester Cawood. In this estate, B. H. Reynolds has been named administrator and his bond has been fixed at $6,000.

There will be a hearing May 2 on the second and final account filed by Andrew Drotleff, administrator of the estate of Suannea Drotleff.

Samuel R. Moorefield who has been appointed executor of the estate of the late Sarah A. Moorfield of Salem will serve without bond. The court has appointed Julia A. Kleon, Fred Capel and Ed. Hauser as appraisers.

Matthew Nicholas, administrator in the estate of the late Margaret Nicholas has filed his first, final and distributive account, and the court has set May 2 as the date for the hearing.

A bond of $250 has been required of Mary J. Wickersham, who has been appointed administratrix of the estate of the late Mary C. Shively of Knox township. No appraisal will be made in this matter.

May 2 has been set as the date for the hearing on the first and second account filed by John Early, administrator of the estate of the late Bartlett Early.

On the same date there will be a hearing on the first and final account filed in the estate of the late Minnie O. Eckstein, by R. C. Eckstein, executor.

Allen L. Heston, who has been appointed guardian of the three minor children of the late Erma G. Heston, has been required to give bond of $6,000.

Thomas, doing business as the Real Sales & Service Co., and a judgment on the verdict for $516 and costs has been entered. The defendant and the Potters Savings & Loan Co. have been ordered in this case to appear in court March 31 and answer in proceedings in aid of execution.

Sale Is Ordered
 In the partition action filed by L. M. Kyes against J. C. Hoffstott, the court has confirmed the report of the Commissioners. A sale of property has been ordered.

Case Now Settled
 There has been a settlement out of court and a dismissal at the costs of the defendant in the case of Charles Boyd against Harry W. Whittaker.

Must Appear in Court
 Henry Blagg, defendant in a divorce action filed against him by his wife Frances Blagg, Feb. 28 last year, has been ordered to appear in open court March 31, and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. The decree in this case was granted May 10, 1929, and Blagg was then ordered to pay his wife $20 weekly and in addition $100 for her expense of the suit.

Settlement Announced
 Settlement has been announced and costs paid in the $1,000 damage action filed by Lucinda McPherson against Harry Tatgenhorst. There will be no further record in this case.

Grants Leave To File
 Leave to the plaintiff to file an amendment to his petition has been granted by Judge W. F. Lones in the case of C. W. Foster against the Springfield Township Mutual Fire Insurance association. Foster seeks to recover $3,200 from the defendant company for a loss he sustained.

May File Answer
 Leave to the defendants to answer at once has been granted by the court in the case of J. S. Cook against William Densmore and others.

Judgment Entered
 Judgment for the plaintiff for $1,798.40 and costs has been entered in favor of the plaintiff in the foreclosure action filed by the Firestone Bank of Lisbon against Lewis Ritchie. A decree foreclosing the mortgage and an order of sale has been entered in the record.

Judgment Awarded
 Alton Grim has been awarded judgment for $165.45 in his case against the same defendant. Each were engaged in the mining of coal in the mine of the defendant company. The cases were not tried to a jury.

Gets Alimony Decree
 Following a hearing on a motion for temporary alimony in the divorce action filed by Arminia Dyke against Bernard Dyke, the court has ordered the defendant to pay the plaintiff $4 weekly and in addition $25 as expense or the case.

Judgment Confessed
 Clyde Erick, defendant in an action filed against him by the Moore Furniture Co., has confessed judgment in favor of the defendant for $638.35 and costs.

Granted Leave To File
 In the case of Harry T. Rapport and others against Robert Taggart, the defendant has been granted leave to file his answer to the petition at once.

Cost Motion Overruled
 A motion to have the costs secured in the case of Robert A. Houser against Joseph Hively has been overruled by Judge Lones, and the defendant has been granted leave to file his answer by April 12.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids; 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875. Adv

DEMANDS A CAR THAT IS IN CONDITION Why Not Have Yours Tuned Up Now . . . Ahead of the Rush SPRING IS HERE!

Improved business conditions are already with us. In discussing motor car problems with the public, the expression is often heard, "Just as soon as spring opens up."

We all know motor cars require a thorough going over before summer use begins. This year, probably more than ever before, there will come a rush to have needed service done. The purpose of this publicity is to induce the public to have their motor car work DONE NOW. Do not wait until everyone wants their work done instantly. We cannot do it all in that manner.

And now, just a word about the Salem Automobile Dealers and Service Club. This is not a price regulating organization. No member is asked or required to conform to any rule regulating the conduct of his individual business. The entire purpose of the organization is the promotion of the automobile business and its allied lines; more efficient conduct of the automobile business and constantly improved service facilities to the motoring public.
